I never understood,
how a mothers love could be so cold

How a child, could be left so distant Far away from home
With nothing but pain left in his head
In his heart

How something so innocent left alone in a war ready to lose

Thousands of light, distance searching for life
You left me in the darkness
How could a mother..
How could a mother to her baby..
